

Up until this point all my courses have either been required as a physics major with an astronomy minor, or have been non-standard electives such as research credits and teaching courses. This is a placeholder until I receive some feedback from an elective I am currently taking: PHYS 322.